GENERAL NEWS.

(TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

The Kemper Outrage.

[illegible], June 26.—A correspondent at [illegible], Miss., to the Times writes that after Chisholm was mortally wounded by the Kemper county mob, he called Mrs. Chisholm to his bedside and said: "My precious [illegible], I am innocent of any crime, and when [illegible] I want you to tell my children so [illegible] them up to know their father did no[illegible] which they need to blush or feel [illegible]. I have been murdered because I [illegible]lican and would live a freeman."

Damage by the Storm.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—The damage done in this county by yesterday's storm [illegible] $100,000. There is much other [illegible]. All the creeks are overflowing and [illegible] flooded.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—The surrounding country suffered severely by the storm. [illegible] hundred houses and buildings [illegible]. The rain fell in torrents [illegible] uprooted by scores.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—The storm completely destroyed the unfinished Methodist [illegible] $7,000. A number of other [illegible] were unroofed and moved from their [illegible] blown about.

[illegible], June 25.—The wind carried [illegible] house, 18 by 28 in size, about 20 [illegible] its place, but injured nobody.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—Fourteen buildings [illegible] yesterday.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—Crops are heavily [illegible].

[illegible], Iowa, June 25.—The rainfall [illegible] and the outlook for crops is gloomy, [illegible] special damage is done.

[illegible], Ill., June 25.—The east bound [illegible] for Cincinnati, three miles east of [illegible] caught by the wind yesterday and [illegible] cars were thrown from [illegible] a ditch. Of the fifteen passengers [illegible] more or less bruised but none [illegible] injured.

[illegible], June 25.—Yesterday's tornado [illegible] and rain, with wind, extended [illegible] city, south of Kansas city and [illegible]. No particular damage heard of [illegible] several washouts in the railroad [illegible].

Robbery and Murder.

[illegible], June 25.—A white man and [illegible] entered the Chinese laundry of [illegible], stole $100, stabbed Ah Foo, left him for dead and escaped. Subsequently a [illegible] laundryman was arrested on [illegible], as was also a white man, to await [illegible] of the injuries.

The Jews and A. T. Stewart & Co.

[illegible], June 25.—Forty-six Jewish [illegible] comprising the best houses in the city, [illegible] in signing the following:

[illegible] undersigned, having noticed with a [illegible] of indignation the uncalled for and [illegible] discrimination made against Israelites as a [illegible] Judge Hilton, of New York, in excluding [illegible] from his hotel at Saratoga, protest [illegible] unwarrantable action as a gross outrage [illegible] an insult to modern civilization and [illegible] republican institutions. Considering [illegible] stand taken by the press as repre[illegible] public opinion, we are content as citizens [illegible] cause, as such, in the hands of the [illegible] people. As business men, however, we [illegible] disrespected, and hereby declare [illegible] ourselves henceforth to entertain no [illegible] whatever with the house of A. T. Stewart [illegible] which Judge Hilton is the acknowledged [illegible]

WASHINGTON CITY.

Railroad Freights.

[illegible], June 23.—The full decision of the U. S. supreme court, delivered by [illegible] Justice in the granger case of the [illegible] Burlington and Quincy Railroad [illegible] the attorney general of Iowa, makes [illegible] these points, viz: The road was [illegible] the general railroad law of Iowa, [illegible] reserves to the legislature the power to [illegible] tariffs; that the company might, [illegible] petition previous to building the road, [illegible] demanded of the legislature to fix per[illegible] the limits of interference, and if [illegible] had been conceded, this would [illegible] constituted a contract against further [illegible]; but as the company failed to obtain a legislative contract it must abide [illegible] terms of the law, which are not invalid because not asserted earlier, and are [illegible] upon the present owners of stock and [illegible] creditors as upon the original company.

Public Surveys.

[illegible], June 25.—Under appointment [illegible] commissioner general of the land [illegible] the gross sum of $300,000, appropriated by congress for land surveys during the next fiscal year, for the survey of private land claims, New Mexico gets $35,000, Colorado $20,000, California $60,000, Arizona [illegible] for the survey of public lands Colorado gets $35,000, Utah $10,000, Idaho $14,400, New Mexico the same, California $17,700, Oregon $16,050, Nevada same, Washington territory same, Arizona $8,850.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

England's Estimate of Her Duty.

London, June 26.—England's neutrality in the existing war is now considered absolutely [illegible] so long as Russia keeps her pledges not to interfere with British Indian interests [illegible]. It is also assumed here that Russia will demand, as a condition of peace, the cession of Servia and Bosnia to Austria, a portion of Armenia to the Czar and the cession of [illegible] to Roumania, to be erected into [illegible] states, to hold the mouth of the [illegible] under international guarantees, as [illegible] holds the mouth of the [illegible]. Germany probably will not [illegible] this arrangement but the only thing [illegible] certain is that the continental [illegible] expect to settle the new boundaries [illegible] England who is in such a [illegible] that her diplomacy is practicably [illegible] affect the question. This creates [illegible]ness because it seems to leave [illegible] no choice but absolute acquiescence [illegible] remonstrance by means of aggressive war.

Deferred Legislation.

London, June 26.—When the House of Commons got into committee of supply last [illegible] no less than thirteen motions had pre[illegible] of the war minister, whose name was [illegible] in connection with the army [illegible]. It was necessary, therefore, to defer to future opportunity the notice of the supplementary vote of credit. The amount [illegible] will probably be two millions [illegible].

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Drowned.

Victoria, June 26.—News was received last [illegible] of the drowning on the 8th inst. of [illegible] Williams, chief factor of the Hudson [illegible] while on a tour of inspection of the company's posts on the northwest coast of [illegible] province. The accident occurred in Queen Charlotte sound by the splitting in two [illegible] canoe in which Mr. Williams and five Indians were crossing from Queen Charlotte island to the main land. Four of the Indians were drowned. The fifth floated for three [illegible] on a piece of the canoe, and was finally [illegible] by Tongas Indians.

Shipping.

The ship Grace Darling, with Wellington coal, has sailed for San Francisco.

The Grover Commission.

The U. S. Senatorial committee arrived on [illegible] and were hospitably received and [illegible] by Gov. Richards. After visiting the suburbs and dining at the Richmond, [illegible] in the Dakota this morning for Puget Sound and Portland.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

The St. Johns Disaster.

St. Johns, June 25.—Insurance agents call upon the insured to present their claims immediately for adjustment. Five hundred [illegible] came to the rink yesterday asking for [illegible] clothing. Enormous groups of people [illegible] arriving to view the wreck.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

General Forward Movement.

BUCHAREST, June 26.—Simultaneously with the crossing into Drobudscha, news comes of a general movement of Russian troops between Stalina and Alexandria down the Danube. Earnest bombardment continued along the whole line Sunday, including batteries at Alteletza, Becket, Grohova and Kala at. The Turks are reported preparing to concentrate their forces on the lower Danube and fortresses forming the quadrilerato of Rustschuk, Silestria, Shumla and Varna, leaving the Widdin force isolated. In Drobudscha the fall of Tulutscha and Schula cannot be far distant, as the Turkish forces occupying these points are cut off from the lines of communication and reinforcements.

Recruiting the Navy.

Russian agents have been despatched to Hamburg, Bremen and the United States to enlist sailors for the navy. Five new men-of-war are to be launched at Cerosta.

Anglo-Russian Diplomacy.

LONDON, June 25.—In the house of commons Sir Stafford Northcote said the Porte's answer to England's communications relating to the Suez canal was received by Laird, British representative at Constantinople on the 21st. The substance of the answer is that the Porte asserts to England's views regarding the free passage of the canal for neutrals, but cannot allow Russian ships access to the canal. In view of Russia's declaration not to make war upon the canal England will not take steps for the protection of the canal.

Troops in Montenegro.

CETTINJE, June 25.—Suliman Pasha left Sunday for Spuz and encamped on the plain west of the city. Mahamet Ali is retiring toward Scenitiza.

Servians Preparing for War.

The Servian minister of war has ordered out for early camp drill sixteen battalions who served in the standing army during 1876, also battalions of regulars and militia officers hitherto available, are to be taken again into active service.

Operations in Asia Minor.

ERZEROUM, June 25.—After the battle at Lerrdekar, June 18th, the Turks, having fallen back on Delibaba, the Russian left took possession of Delibaba pass and fortified it. The Russian right wing having retired somewhat, Mukhtar Pasha telegraphed Rachaid Pasha to join him with nine of the twelve battalions forming the Turkish left wing. Mukhtar quitted his headquarters at Sewen on the night of June 17th for Delababa to take command of the Turkish right wing in person. The following day he received reinforcements which raised the strength of the right wing to nineteen battalions four cavalry regiments and three battalions. The Russians in Delibaba Pass numbered 20,000, with five batteries. Several skirmishes were fought June 20th and on the 21st. Mukhtar Pasha attacked the pass, fighting from 6 o'clock in the morning until 8 in the evening. The Russians were at first driven from their positions, but they afterwards recaptured them and attacked the Turkish positions on the heights with charges of infantry and cavalry. The Turkish front gave way for a short time, but afterwards rallied, charged the Russians and drove them back. The Turks then opened a terrible artillery fire and compelled the Russians to fall back with heavy losses; 400 killed and about the same number wounded. It is reckoned that the Russian loss is at least double.

On the 22d Mukhtar again fought a severe battle. The Russian cavalry were placed in an entrenchment to act as infantry, but ultimately the Turks drove them out and pursued them; the Russians retreating in disorder for Seid-in, where the fighting lasted thirteen hours. The Turkish loss, according to latest accounts, was upwards of 2,000, and the Russians much heavier.

The Turkish headquarters are still at Sowen, where 24 battalions and 2 batteries occupy an excellent position, unassailable in front. On the 23d 6,000 Russians began to advance against this position. It is very probable a battle will be fought here. The Turks await the assault. If it is not attempted, they will advance and endeavor to crush this corps.

Ismael Pasha, governor of Erzeroum, commands the center during the absence of Mukhtar Pasha. So far all attacks upon Kars have been repulsed with loss.

Russians Surrender.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 25.—A Turkish newspaper announces the capitulation of the Russians at Bayazid. The same paper states that Suliman Pasha has entered the capital of Montenegro.

Dervish Pasha telegraphs from Batoum, June 23: "We have repulsed several attacks of the Russians and finally compelled them to withdraw their batteries and retreat with 1,500 killed and wounded. Darkness coming on, we couldn't bring up our artillery and therefore did not occupy the entrenchments which the Russians abandoned, but returned to our former position."

A telegram from the Governor states that a frigate assisted in the foregoing affair by the bombardment of the entrenchments of the Russians, and acknowledges that seven Turkish officers and 80 men were killed.

Turkish Reports Denied.

RAGUSA, June 25.—Several telegrams deny the report of Turkish successes, and the junction of Suliman Pasha and Ali Sahib. These dispatches are considered untrustworthy.

Movements in Dobrudscha.

BUCHAREST, June 25.—The corps now entering Dobrudscha is ordered to advance quickly as possible up to the line of the Cesinarvoda and Kustoncje railway. After the arrival of the right wing the army will force a passage higher up the stream.

Bombardment of Rutschuk.

RUTSCHUK, June 25.—Sunday night the bombardment of this town by the Russians became terrible. The Turks stood fire with great coolness, replying vigorously and with good aim. A shell has fallen in the prison and killed two prisoners. Several non-combatants have been killed and wounded. Shots have struck the German, English and Belgian consulates. Shells burst near the hospital, but the Russian fire seems directed to the center of the town and continues to-day with great vigor.

A Rustchuck dispatch says one hundred people have been killed in the streets by Russian shells.

General War Notes.

VIENNA, June 26.—It is supposed the Czar will leave Bucharest for Alexandria to be present at the crossing.

IBRAIL, June 26.—The Turks have retreated toward Ledidje, on the line of the Kustandje railway. The whole of the north end of Dobrudscha is abandoned. They will probably make a stand at this place. Another attempt at crossing the Danube between Giurgevo and Turner is likely.

RUTSCHUK, June 26.—The Russians have made a second crossing at Herzova. A force of 8,000 men passed over, and has effected a junction with detachments coming from Matchin, and will to-morrow march against the Turkish line of defense between Czenovoda and Kustondje. The Turks are making great exertions to break the line at Trajan's wall between Czenavoda and Kutondje, which has been strengthened by recent fortifications throughout its whole length. Both sides make the usual charges of inhumanity.

BUCHAREST, June 26.—Turkish shells struck the hospital at Grourna.

ERZEROUM, June 26.—The bombardment of Kars is very severe; the garrison suffering greatly.

Walla Walla Statesman: The leader in the Indian fray is undoubtedly young Joseph, a fine looking man, aged about 30 years, and just the character for the hero of a dime novel. We have frequently met Joseph on the streets of Walla Walla, and on one occasion had the honor of an introduction to the vagabond. The impression he made upon the writer was that of a wiry, cunning savage, equal to any emergency, and possessing more than the average bravery of the race.

THE IDAHO INDIAN WAR.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Full Statements from Eye-Witnesses of the Massacre of Settlers and Defeat of the Troops.

Horrible Scenes—How the Massacre Began—Narrow Escapes.

A Settlement Utterly Destroyed—Houses Plundered and Burned—Stock Killed or Driven Off.

WALLA WALLA, June 26—12 M.

The following is from a Lewiston Teller extra that was received here this morning. It bears date of the 25th:

L. P. Brown sends us full reports of events as learned at Mount Idaho during the 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st, and to 9 A. M. of the 22d. We condense the facts in his dispatches and give them in their daily order.

On the 18th some three or four of Col. Perry's company arrived safely at camp. Wm. George, after he was wounded on Salmon river, escaped and arrived through the mountains. Pat Price, having Manuel's little girl, 6½ years old, with broken arm, arrived safely from White Bird. Mrs. Samuel Benedict, with two children, was found on the White Bird and brought safely in. She reports Geo. Woodward and Peter Bertard killed at Baker's house, and her husband and August killed at her home. About 20 Indians made the attack. They then went to H. Brown's house and store. Brown and wife escaped across the river in a boat. Brown was wounded. They were afterwards rescued near Cottonwood House. The Indians then went to H. Mason's, killed Mason, French Frank, the old shoemaker, and Osborne. Others on Salmon river forted at Slate creek. H. C. Horton was found dead near Atkinson's field, supposed to have been killed on the 17th. Newsome creek and Elk city miners have either come in or are forted, waiting arms, etc., at Mt. Idaho.

June 19.—Lew Day died of his wound at one o'clock A. M.; buried to-day at Masonic grounds. The other wounded are carefully cared for by the women of Mt. Idaho. Benson's, Lewis' and Pettigrew's pack trains are safe in from the mountains. Mt. Idaho is well fortified. Renegades are joining the hostiles. Scouts report the following houses on the prairie and hill plundered of everything valuable, to wit.: H. Johnson, Jarrett, Overman, Byron, Heshagan, Rodman, Remington, Chapman, Benoy and Crowsdale. Watson's house and Johnson's barn are burned.

The settlers did not provoke the outbreak, but the Indian and War Departments gave the offense in their management of the orders to bring the Indians upon the reservation. The Salmon River's, Joseph's band and other renegades precipitated the outbreak.

Geo. Popham has just got in from White Bird. He witnessed the first attack on Salmon river and much of the fight between the Indians and soldiers on Sunday morning. The following is his statement, verbatim, as taken down by Mr. Brown:

I was stopping at Jack Manuel's, my son-in-law's, since last fall. The first alarm we had was on Thursday about noon, when we saw three Indians go past. Soon after Mr. Baker and Fruth came to Manuel's and told us that the three Indians just passed had shot Sam Benedict in the legs. Mr. Baker wanted to come to the prairie and inform the people, but Manuel did not deem it safe for any of them to leave. Mr. Baker went home, and in a short time returned with Pat. Price, and intended to come to Mount Idaho. They had only gone a short distance when they saw the Indians coming. Baker, Manuel, wife and children started to go down to Baker's house; had got but a short way when they were surrounded by the Indians, about 20 in number. They killed Baker and Manuel. Mrs. Manuel fell from her horse and they ravished her. The little girl's arm was broken and the baby boy was killed. Mrs. Manuel got back to the house and the Indians told her that if Price and herself would give up all the arms and ammunition we had they would not kill us. We gave up a Henry rifle and shotgun. We kept secreted that night and Friday night. On Saturday, at about 11 A. M., the Indians came down the road from the prairie, went to the brush and stayed all night. I also took to the timber on Sunday morning. They burned the house, and Mrs. Manuel and child were burned in it. The Indians were all camped on the creek, the squaws below. About daylight the fight commenced between the Indians and soldiers, and continued about one hour, when the troops fell back and I saw no more of them. The Indians told me they were going to cross Salmon river. They killed a large band of cattle and had a great many horses belonging to settlers. Indians told me they had sent a message up the Snake river and that there was a large lot of Indians who would join them, and that they had plenty of good guns; that they would kill and capture all the country about Weiser, Payette and Boise valleys, with Boise City. They also said runners had been sent to Palouse, Spokane, Columbia river and Umatilla tribes, who would join them, and that they would capture the whole country about the Snake and Clearwater rivers, including Lewiston. They said it would take them two months to accomplish it and then they would have a good time. On Monday I started to Mount Idaho. In the afternoon they headed me off and went back, but came up the creek that night, but did not feel satisfied and went back. I learned nothing more and on Tuesday morning again started. I came through the brush and timber and reached the fort at 7 P. M. Price left White Bird at 3 P. M. Sunday, packing the little 6½ years old girl, by permission of the Indians. He stated that he saw on the road nine dead soldiers. They were all scalped and horribly mutilated. He arrived at Mount Idaho Monday evening, where they now remain. I think there must have been from 150 to 200 engaged in the fight Sunday morning.

Four thousand Henry rifle cartridges for volunteers and two boxes of ammunition for Colonel Perry arrived to-night under escort of Igo and ten men.

20th—To-day Chapman and his scouts found H. C. Brown and wife near the Cottonwood house and brought them in. The scouts saw no Indians.

21st—Chapman's scouts went to the battle field, or near it, and saw several dead soldiers horribly mutilated. Met a Chinaman who told them that all the buildings on Salmon river, from Brown's, below the mouth of White Bird up to Slate creek, were burned and all the cattle and horses driven off. None of Perry's command went out to-day.

22d—9 A. M.—By reliable reports we are informed that the Indians have all crossed Salmon river at Horseshoe bend, with all their plunder, and will, we believe, make for the Payette and Weiser valleys with all their warriors. Some estimate their number at three hundred. The above is all condensed from L. P. Brown's dispatches.

Very Latest.

June 24th, 3:30 P. M.

Dispatches from General Howard are to the effect that Colonel Perry met him and the command at Cottonwood. The force is to move to-morrow morning to the old battle ground. The Indians are in force at Horseshoe bend, on Salmon river, between White Bird and Slate creeks.

INTELLIGENCE BY MAIL.

The OREGONIAN has despatched a special correspondent to the seat of war, who will accompany the troops under command of Gen. Howard and report fully and faithfully all events. No other paper will be so thoroughly served, and readers may expect to find in our colums all news attainable. Our representative's first letter is given below. It was mailed from Lewiston at 5 P. M. Saturday:

Left Portland at 5 A. M. last Thursday, per steamer Onconta; met and passed the Welcome at Vancouver; she receiving howitzers and ammunition there. She however passed us in turn, reaching Lower Cascades at 11 A. M., half an hour in advance, with the troops on board. About three hours were passed in transhipment to the Mountain Queen at the Upper Cascades, which place we left at 2 P. M., reaching the Dalles at 6.15. Found every one at the Dalles greatly excited over the report which had passed through, that Gen. Howard had been forced to abandon Fort Lapwai and fall back on Lewiston; but we could obtain no foundation for it, and the officers with us, looked upon the rumor as false. Transhipment to Celilo occupied two hours. We left Celilo per Almota at 8:30 P. M., and ran all night up the Columbia. At 6 next morning (Friday) passed the Tenino, bound down. We reached Umatilla at 9 A. M.; merely touched at the wharf and went on. Reached Wallula at 1:15 P. M., stopping about five minutes only, and found that they knew nothing of the reported evacuation of Lapwai, and that there had been no more fighting, all of which had been telegraphed you. We are now, 2 P. M., rapidly nearing the junction of the Snake and Columbia rivers, and will have no landings to make before reaching Lewiston. Among the passengers on board is Sheriff Ezra Baird, of Nez Perce county, in which the Indian outbreak has occurred. Mr. Baird has been a resident of Lewiston for 15 years, is now serving his second term as sheriff, and in connection with his brother runs the stage, and has the mail contract between Lewiston, Mount Idaho, Elk City and Warren's. He makes the following statement: "The Indians have been preparing for this thing ever since the visit of the commissioners Messrs. Jerome and Stickney, last November. The Indians all through the Wallowa valley have been buying ammunition. They have bought in Lewiston and Walla Walla all the metallic cartridges, powder and ball that they could pay for. They are very well armed, having many Henry rifles. I left Lewiston by boat Thursday morning June 14th for Portland. Have heard from my brother who drove the express over from Mount Idaho to Lewiston on that morning. He met many Indians of Joseph's band who were very saucy, riding up to the stage, filling the road and refusing to make way. My brother stopped at Ben Norton's on Cottonwood creek, and notified him to look out for himself as the Indians meant mischief. That afternoon the outbreak occurred. Mount Idaho is 65 miles southeast of Lewiston. Norton's place on the Cottonwood, is about half way between. Thursday, two weeks ago, June 7th, I drove over from Mount Idaho to Lewiston. On the way, at Craig's mountain, met about 150 of Joseph's band, about 40 bucks, the balance squaws and pappooses. They had with them near 3,000 horses, and were going north across the prairie in the direction of Kamia. Spoke to them and they appeared friendly; said they were there on their way to the reservation. I now believe that they were taking their women and children and stock over to the Bitter Root valley for safety, in order to return and commence war." Col. Sully, who is on board with the troops, concurs in this opinion. We have also on board, going up to Lewiston with the state arms loaned by governor Chadwick, Mr. H. D. Sanborn, of Portland, formerly a resident of Lewiston, and Mr. L. Kuhn, recently one of the firm of Loewenberg Bros., Lewiston. These gentlemen have in addition to the 60 muskets and 3,000 rounds of ammunition belonging to Oregon, 3,000 Henry rifle cartridges and four cases of powder, ball, caps, etc. The troops on board consist of four companies, A, D, G, and M, of the 4th artillery, and Co. C, of the 21st regiment infantry. They number in all 138 men, and have with them 2 mountain howitzers, 2 field pieces, and 2 gatling guns. They are officered as follows: Captains Throckmorton, Rodney, Bancroft and Morris of the artillery, and Burton of the infantry; Lieutenants Howe, Stewart, Humphrey and Paddock of the artillery, and Wood and Williams of the infantry, and of the medical department, Dr. Hall. Capt. Throckmorton is in command. Col. Alfred Sully, of Vancouver, is with us, going up in response to an order from Gen. Howard, to consult with him. Of the artillery, companies A, G and M, are just from Sitka and Fort Wrangel; D Co. is from Fort Canby; Co. C, infantry, is from Fort Townsend. Officers and men are in excellent health and spirits.

Saturday, 10 A. M.—We ran steadily up the Snake river till 1:30 this morning, when Palouse rapids were reached, and we were obliged to make fast to the bank till 2:30 A. M., when it being sufficiently light to make the attempt, we steamed over the rapids and are now well on our way to Lewiston. Nothing worthy of especial note has occurred. Your readers are too familiar with the scenery of this section, for me to attempt a description of it here. In fact, there is such a deep feeling of anxiety to reach Lewiston that very trifling attention is paid to the view by any on board. Our freight amounts to 40 tons, including 15 tons subsistence stores for Lapwai. The current is so strong that, though the boat is forced to its utmost, we cannot average quite seven miles per hour. The O. S. N. Co. deserve high commendation for the celerity which has characterized their movements since this trouble began. Though owing to the unsettled and crowded state of the boats, there must necessarily be more or less discomfort, the officers and employes on the various boats have evinced a readiness to impart information and do all in their power to further the well-being of their passengers that elicits praise from all.

The Beginning of the Outbreak.

The following letter is the first clear statement we have seen as to the original uprising. It was Indian treachery, without provocation:

LEWISTON, I. T., June 23, 1877.

MR. H. D. SANBORN—The OREGONIAN has been misinformed in regard to Ben Norton. The facts are these: The outrages on Salmon river occurred before the shooting of Norton. Lew Day started from Mount Idaho with an express for Fort Lapwai and Lewiston for assistance. He was shot this side of Cottonwood, but made his way back to Cottonwood, (kept by Norton). Norton hitched up his wagon and took his wife, wife's sister, his son, Lew Day and Joe Moore, and started for Mount Idaho. They were attacked about six miles this side of Mount Idaho. The Indians shot his horses, and then they all got under the wagon, the horses falling in such a manner as to make a kind of breastwork, where they kept the Indians at bay. Lew Day being wounded, wanted water, as all wounded men do. They had water in the wagon. Norton stood it as long as he could, and finally crawled out to try and get the water for Day, and was shot in the attempt. (quite a difference between that and the OREGONIAN'S statement) Mrs. Norton was shot through both legs, and told her sister and son to crawl off into the grass, and if they got away to go to Mount Idaho for assistance, and they were picked up by the scouts, as Brown states in his letter.

Moore kept the Indians off until morning, although he was shot through the hips, and he and Mrs. Norton were taken into Mt. Idaho. They are doing well. H. C. Brown and his wife have since came in. Brown is slightly wounded.

We are not much alarmed here, but have taken the usual precautions with the means at our command.

Yours, truly,
H. SQUIER.

Letter from H. D. Sanborn.

Mr. Sanborn sends the following from Lewiston, 24th:

I forward all particulars I could obtain before the boat left. It seems all of the whites but one were killed before the battle. Messengers were sent to Gen. Howard and to the agency with information of the murders, and then the soldiers were sent forward. The battle was simply a slaughter. The Indians were surprised, not the soldiers; but after the first fire from the Indians the soldiers were panic stricken, and had it not been for Chapman and Shearer many more would have been killed. There were about 90 in the fight and 33 were killed. The position at present is considered critical. Should Gen. Howard engage the Indians and whip them badly, the war will be virtually over; but should the Indians again be victorious, there may be a more general war. There is little doubt but all the Indians within 150 miles of the Salmon river country are fully informed of the movement of troops and what has taken place, and many renegades have joined and will continue to join Joseph's band until they get news of their capture.

There has been considerable feeling against Gen. Howard, but there is less within the last day or two. It is questionable whether many people actually thought Joseph's band would fight. Gen. Howard's mistake seems to have been that after he gave the Indians so many days to go on and do what he said they must do he did not have the force at hand to compel them to do it. I am of the opinion the war will not be general. The agent at Lapwai is confident few of the treaty Indians will join Joseph, and those best posted say the Indians north of Snake and Clearwater will not help Joseph, as the Nez Perces did not help them in the war of '55 and '56. The Umatillas will be prevented from joining the hostile Indians with much force, and from the Boise section there are no Indians to come. It seems quite probable they will make a stand in the rough country bounded by the Snake on the west, Salmon on the north, Little Salmon on the east and the Payette on the south. I give you the number of soldiers available Sunday, June 24th. Gen. Howard with about two-thirds of his force should be near Salmon river to-day, (24th). H. D. SANBORN.

Following is a summary of the forces in the field Sunday June 24th:

REGULARS.		VOLUNTEERS.
Perry	60	Chapman, Mt Idaho	35
Whipple	100	Page, Walla Walla	23
Miller	100	Hunter	25
Throckmorton	135	Elliott, Pataha	25
Others	75	Williams	10
	470		118
Total			588

All these troops have gone to Salmon river except Elliot's Company, which has started at Snake river to head off any Umatillas who may be trying to cross to join Joseph.

Company M, captain Throckmorton, of the artillery, and company C, captain Burton, of the infantry, were through the Modoc war in the lava beds.

Our special correspondent at the front sends the following dispatches from Fort Lapwai, dated June 25th via Walla Walla, June 26th:

A courier has just come through from Gen. Howard. Colonel Perry, with his command, has joined the General at Norton's station, on the Little Cottonwood, about 50 miles from here. The troops here will start to join them to-morrow. I will go through with the courier to the front to-night if possible. General Howard intends to move to-morrow on Joseph, who is reported to be between the Little Salmon and Snake rivers at Horseshoe Bend, about twenty-five miles south of Mount Idaho.

Another courier has just arrived from Gen. Howard; he left at 10:30 this morning. Nothing further in regard to the Indians. Gen. Howard will move forward from Little Cottonwood with the troops in the morning. I leave with the courier now for the front, distance about 50 miles, which we hope to make in five hours. If I get through I will send dispatch by first return courier.

Assurances of Friendship.

The following letter, just received, will require no explanation:

ST. MARY'S CHURCH,
Hangman Creek, June 19, 1877.

The bearer of this is sent by the chief, Seltez, to let all the whites around know that he and all his tribe of Indians, to-wit: the Coeur d'Alenes, are always friendly disposed toward the whites, and will help them as much as they can if any help will be necessary.

In testimony thereof he signs this paper.

ANDREW ✗ SELTEZ.
mark

I testify that the above is truly from Andrew Seltez, Coeur d'Alene chief, and I believe that they are truly friendly toward the whites.

T. M. CATALDO,
Catholic Priest.

I, the undersigned, chief of the Palouse Indians, say as Seltez; though I hear of the trouble some Nez Perces give to the whites; my heart is always good, and the whites have nothing to fear from me and my people.

his
mark

The above is truly from a man who calls himself John Fla of the Palouse Indians.

T. M. CATALDO,
Catholic Priest.

I the undersigned am from below Almota, and all the whites know my heart. I am here only to gather camas, not to give trouble to the whites. If Joseph and his friends make war against the whites that war will finish them.

USEUSPA (✗) EUINE.

The above was brought in by men sent to ascertain the truth or falsity of rumors that they were on the war path. The scouts found the Indians herding the stock of the crops of the citizens who had "forted" at Colfax for protection. The excitement was at red heat and our companies of volunteer militia were organized. We know the parties, (chief and priest), who certified to the foregoing, and have perfect confidence in their statements.

G. A. MILLER, Act. Adj't Gen.

List of Settlers Killed.

Col. Wood received a dispatch from General Howard giving an accurate list of the settlers who had been massacred. As reported, the list includes 15 men, one woman and two children, making a total of 18. So far as can be ascertained, this is all the citizens who have been murdered by the Indians.

Winnemucca's Movements.

BOISE CITY, June 25.—Advices from Silver say that Winnemucca has started for this place. It is considered equally probable that he has gone to confer with other Indians. We are informed a party of Indians who have been encamped near Upper Weiser settlements have asked permission to move southward through fear of becoming involved with the hostiles.

A Sensible Order.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—General McDowell has been instructed by General Sherman to have the Indians pursued as fast as possible and pay no attention, whatever, to boundary lines of different military commanders but to punish the Indians wherever caught.

At a mass meeting at Boise City on the 19th, 93 volunteers were enrolled. O. Robbins was chosen captain, John Hailey first, and J. S. Gray second lieutenant. On the rolls of the company are the secretary of the territory, E. J. Curtis; territorial treasurer, John Huntoon; T. E. Logan, Mayor of Boise City; Judge H. Hister; J. H. McCarty, president of the First National Bank; A. H. Boomer, of the Northwestern Stage Company, and many merchants and prominent business men.

A fellow named Lewis Foster, confined in the jail at Walla Walla, managed to set the building on fire last Sunday and came near destroying the lives of all the inmates. Six men were confined in cells, who were nearly suffocated before help reached them. Foster is insane, of course. Nobody ever acts badly now unless he is insane. The fire department saved the building.

The sum of $1,000 has been raised for the erection of a house of worship for the Presbyterians in Puyallup valley. It will be built near L. F. Thompson's residence.

OREGON.

Dr. Drake and family, late of Michigan, have arrived at Union, where they will reside.

At Independence, Polk county, the several warehouses have a storage capacity of 300,000 bushels.

The flour mill at New Era, Clackamas county, owned by Mr. Peals, has been sold to N. W. Eves, of Canby, for $6,000.

George Barnhart, of Umatilla, has constructed a vat for dipping sheep, and will put his 8,000 head through a course of tobacco juice.

The new county bridge across the Molalla, near Canby, will be finished on or about the middle of July. A. S. Miller & Son, contractors, are doing good work.

Major Cornoyer writes to the East Oregonian that the whites need have no fears from Indians on Umatilla reservation. Over 200 Indians that live on the Columbia have come in worse scared than a white man could be.

W. A. Cates, of Union, has invented a clock for which he will take out a patent. By a simple addition constituting the face of the clock, the exact time can be ascertained at any point on the face of the earth.

Old Howlish-wam-po, Indian chief at Umatilla, lately sold 79 mares, which were brought down to the Dalles. Messrs. Smith & Lewis recently bought 150 head of horses at the same place to be driven to Montana. Since March the reservation Indians have sold over 500 head.

There was shipped from Umatilla by the O. S. N. Co., up to June 10th, 130 bales of wool, weight 71,914 pounds; also 777 sacks, weight 213,060 pounds, making a grand total of 284,974 pounds; the heaviest wool growers' crops have not come in yet from Willow and Birch creeks.

Umatilla county claims that the Monumental and other mines are within her limits, though taxes in that locality have always been collected by Grant county. This, says the Umatilla paper, is something that ought to be definitely settled between the counties, and the sooner this is done the sooner $1,000,000 of taxable property will attach to us.

J. N. Matheny, formerly sheriff of Marion county, met with a very serious accident near Miller's ranch on Burnt river, about 10 days ago. While placing his 6 shooter in his canteen it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the upper part of the thigh and ranging downward, coming out at the knee. He was starting for the Big Horn country.

The Eugene Guard says that parties are prospecting for coal in that county at two different localities, with favorable indications. Wm. G. Eaton, about 15 miles southeast of that place, has run a tunnel about 50 feet, the coal increasing in quality and quantity as the tunnel progresses. Thomas Kenebel, about 10 miles east of Eugene, is also running a tunnel with quite as good prospects of success.

Salem Mercury: During last week the necessary papers were filed in the secretary of state's office incorporating the Farmers' Transportation Company. The incorporators are, J. S. Cochran, F. S. Dement and G. W. Church. Also the Camp Creek Gold and Silver Mining Company; capital stock, $400,000. This latter is a Salem company, or rather the incorporators are Salem men. They are H. M. Thatcher, A. N. Chapman and Wm. Waldo.

THE TERRITORIES.

It is stated that the road to the Puyallup coal mines will be completed by July 15th.

Ranchers have occupied the dry country between Snake river and the Touchet. The land is good, but there is no water. They haul water five miles.

Numbers of the gallant braves who started out from Walla Walla for the Indian war have returned already, and are reposing in the bosom of their families.

The haunted house is now at Walla Walla. Many tenants have tried it and actually left from fright. There were knockings and shadowy visitors and various kinds of ghostly outfits.

People about Colfax, W. T., were at first alarmed, but now are satisfied there is no danger from the Indians around them. The rumors and reports about the Umatilla, Cayuse, Yakima, Coeur d'Alene, and other tribes of Indians "joining the fray," are without foundation in fact.

A wool swindle has been perpetrated at Steilacoom. Coulter of Olympia was buying wool there, when he discovered that the farmers had been filling it with salt, bought at a cent a pound. As he was paying 27 cents for the wool he doesn't take kindly to the fraud, and will make it hot for the parties implicated.

Walla Walla Union: The sooner the self-styled humanitarians in the east learn to regard the Indian as the equal of the rattlesnake in venomous treachery, the sooner will the management of Indian affairs be turned over to military men, who have more faith in the efficacy of powder and ball than they have in prayer.

Already there are congregated near Walla Walla about 70 persons of the sect who believe that Christ is reappearing in the person of a little son of W. W. Davis, now four years of age. Others are coming to join them. But little is known of the sect, as they live in a lot of houses built close together, and do not "neighbor" much with the settlers around them.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

It is understood that General Grant's visit to Europe is in part in connection with this great enterprise. It will be remembered that during General Grant's administration he caused several exploring parties to survey routes across the Isthmus of Darien to find the most feasible route for uniting the two oceans with a ship canal. Former administrations have caused similar surveys and the question with General Grant is by no means a new one; but his efforts compassed more than any of his predecessors had put forth. The Nicaragua was the third route surveyed and pronounced the most practicable. The chief objection to this route is the want of a sufficient harbor at Greytown on the Atlantic side and the constant filling up of the mouth of the Nicaragua river and bay at Greytown with sand during the annual freshets subject to that country. The possibility of overcoming these objections by confining the water in one main channel instead of emptying through its several mouths into the ocean as it does at the present time, is suggested by the jetties which have been constructed within the past few years, and during Grant's administration, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, whereby the river has been successfully turned, or in other words, confined in one current, and the sand caused to move on with the current of the river into deep ocean, so that the largest ocean ships can now pass out and enter the mouth of the river with perfect safety and success. This project was talked of for years, and many surveys and estimates made, some as high as $150,000,000, before the government would lend its aid beyond the old fashioned dredge boat system. The successful construction of the Suez Canal, connecting the Mediterranean and the Red Seas, also gives encouragement to this enterprise. The commercial interests of Europe are directly interested with the United States in this great work of uniting the two oceans by a ship canal. The object is of such vast importance it is thought that if the matter could be properly presented to the capitalists of the nations most interested they could be induced to enter upon the undertaking and carry it through to completion. This is what General Grant will do while he is in Europe. He will have the co-operation of our foreign ministers as far as the same may be compatible with their positions, and, with his personal popularity, he will come as near accomplishing his design as any representative from this country who may go there on this project.

FROM SUPERINTENDENT BURCH.

SALEM, June 25, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your papers of the 21st and 22d you criticise somewhat severely but courteously my official actions—not more severely than I deserve, if your charges are correct.

You charge me in the first place with a plain and open violation of the law in the appointment of a clerk to the penitentiary.

Second, That it is a needless expenditure of the public money.

Third, You call upon the grand jury, the District Attorney and the Secretary of State to take steps for the recovery of what has been expended, and to stop the expenditures for the future.

In reply to your first charge I will say that it is not my wish or purpose to violate any law as a private citizen. As a public officer I have taken a solemn oath and am under heavy bonds to keep the law. Hence, I have examined the matter and find no law, either general or special, or any report of any legislative committee adopted by both houses against it. The House, during the last session, as I understand, refused to adopt the report of the joint committee recommending the discontinuance of the office, and, by their action, endorsed the employment of a clerk.

But I had other and more important reasons for the appointment. It is my intention that the business of the office shall be correctly, intelligently and creditably kept, and no one man can do it, and I do not think the citizens of the state expect me to employ clerical aid and pay for the same out of my own salary, when the duties of the office require the whole time of the superintendent. If you will take into consideration the amount of work required of the superintendent of the Oregon state penitentiary, you will not be surprised at his appointing a clerk, but will in my judgement as heartily endorse the appointment as you now oppose it.

I extend to you a cordial invitation (and through you to every citizen of the state) to come here, and I will induct you into the duties of the office by giving you full and free access to everything pertaining thereto, and if you do not at the close of your investigation, endorse the appointment of a clerk, I will agree to strip to the waist and let you maul me through the OREGONIAN until your conscience says quit.

I think you are in error in reference to the duties of the Secretary of State as connected with the accounts of the Penitentiary. The law makes the Superintendent of the state prison his own auditor and requires the Secretary to issue warrants upon vouchers audited by him. The Governor, in the absence of the Legislature alone can control the acts of the Superintendent and he only by his removal from office. The charge is made also of auditing the claim of the clerk before it was due. I audited and gave him a voucher on the 31st day of the month, the last day of the quarter, when it was due.

I am a public servant having charge of the most important and responsible position in a pecuniary point of view (excepting the Insane Asylum) in the state; one in which its financial interests are most involved, hence it is the duty of every citizen, and particularly one occupying your position at the head of the leading journal of the state, to watch with a vigilant eye the acts of a public servant like myself. I court at all times investigation.

I entered upon the duties of the office I now hold with a determination to carry it on in the interests of no man or party, but in the interests of the whole state, in which action I am upheld and have the approval of the executive of the state. I have made no changes in the officers or employes of the prison, and have made none only as I thought the interests of the state demanded, believing as I did on taking charge of the prison, and becoming more thoroughly convinced as I became better acquainted with the workings of the institution, that personal and political considerations should not have anything to do with its management. That such a course would be detrimental to its interests morally, financially and in every respect, and that it will never be a success until they are precluded.

These views I have fully explained to His Excellency, the Governor, and find they meet with his approval. The management of the prison in every respect, both as to the treatment of the prisoners and its finances, are open to the inspection of any party, and are so arranged that but little time will be required to satisfy any intelligent mind of the honesty if not the correctness of the same.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
B. F. BURCH,
Sup't Oregon State Penitentiary.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, 1877

MR BURCH EXAMINED

Among the very first things brought before the attention of the legislative assembly at the last session was a resolution to create a joint committee to examine the books, accounts and management of the superintendent of the state penitentiary also, of the other officers and employes of the prison during the past two years, said committee to be empowered to send for persons and papers during the investigation. It was house joint resolution No. 2, was moved by Mr. Gilbert of Marion, and was adopted at once by the house without a dissenting vote This was on the second day of the session On the following day it was adopted by the senate, and in pursuance of it the committee was appointed After an interval of nearly four weeks, during which the subject had the careful attention of the committee, a report was made It was laid before both houses on the 7th October We give the concluding paragraph

We think the books and business offices of the superintendent, which have hitherto been kept in Salem, ought to be kept at the prison buildings, and as we find no authority of law for the employment of a clerk by the superintendent, we recommend that that officer be discontinued, and also that the item of office rent should be cut off.

The above may be found on page 352 of the senate journal, and on page 421 of the journal of the house. Superintendent Watkinds, in conformity with this report, dismissed the clerk and removed the books to the prison buildings. Superintendent Burch has reappointed the clerk and taken the books back to the harness shop, and the secretary of state is drawing warrants to pay the said clerk for his services. Mr. Burch attempts to justify his action by this statement

I have examined this matter and find no law, either general or special, or any report of any legislative committee adopted by both houses against it. The house, during the last session, as I understand, refused to adopt the report of the joint committee recommending the discontinuance of the office, and, by their action, endorsed the employment of a clerk.

Mr. Burch has evidently looked for a record hoping not to find it, or seeking rather a way by which its mandate could be avoided. The house journal, page 439, shows that the report of the committee was accepted unanimously The superintendent clearly intends an evasion on the plea that it was not adopted It seems necessary to say that this is a species of tergiversation quite below Mr. Burch. Probably he has been led into it by others. It is even more to be regretted that he should have said that the house by its action "endorsed the employment of a clerk." The record shows precisely the opposite. It is an extremely violent presumption to hold that when a committee duly appointed reports unanimously that a clerk be discontinued, and the house unanimously accepts the report, the continued employment of the clerk is thereby "endorsed." What makes the equivocation more glaring is the fact that the senate also considered the subject, and is admitted to have pronounced against the clerk.

For the appointment of the clerk the superintendent gives "another and more important reason." He finds the services convenient, and thinks them even necessary. They are desirable no doubt to the superintendent, and it may be a law ought to authorize payment of them. That is another question. At present, however, there is no such law, and the legislative assembly, to cut off what it deemed an unnecessary office, expressly so declared. The superintendent says his position on the subject has the approval of the governor. That would be inferrible from the action of governor Chadwick in retaining him in the position, and of secretary Chadwick in drawing the warrants to pay for services employed by him which no law authorizes. Mr. Burch urges his intentions to do right and to keep within the law. We do not question them. But it would seem that he has been over-persuaded in this matter. This fanciful interpretation of the action of the legislature is not like his reputed straightforwardness It is not an affair of very great importance, it is true, since the additional charge to the state will not be much felt in the midst of an extravagant general expenditure; but inasmuch as the matter has come up it is as well to show just what there is in it.

GENERAL HOWARD

In several papers of the "upper country" a tone of fault-finding with Gen. Howard on account of the Indian outbreak is quite conspicuous. Some very unjust reflections are thrown upon him. It is well known that Gen. Howard has been trying to carry out the so-called peace policy of the government But he is not responsible for that policy, and has acted only under orders. Though a man of peace, he is also a thorough soldier, and all imputations upon his soldiership are more discreditable to their authors than to him. They who attribute mismanagement to him in this matter can be in no position to know the orders that govern him, and all the other facts. The Walla Walla Statesman is more just. It says:

> A correspondent writing from Lewiston is very severe in his denunciation of General Howard, to whose mismanagement he attributes the outbreak of savage cruelty. From other sources we learn that the people of northern Idaho very generally are down on Gen. Howard, and make him the scapegoat for all the mistakes that have been made. We deem it too soon to form a correct judgment as to the management of this Indian trouble, and think it not unlikely that after the smoke of battle has cleared away Gen. Howard will be found blameless, if not entitled to credit.

The eastern war has now opened in earnest Heavy fighting is reported both in Europe and Asia. It is now clearly the intention of Russia to push the war with vigor. That it will be done with great sacrifice of life need not be doubted. The Turks occupy very strong defensive positions, and recent improvements of firearms give troops holding such positions immensely greater advantages than formerly for making successful defense. With such rapidity and effect is the fire delivered that assaulting columns are annihilated before they can reach the works they are attempting to carry. But Russia by the sheer weight of numbers will be able to push simultaneous campaigns against both divisions of the Turkish empire Her vast forces will enable her to invest the principal fortresses and still have men enough for operations in the open field. From this time forward we may look for stirring news.

In a recent telegram to Washington, Gov Chadwick stated among other things that citizens of Walla Walla are in danger of an attack by Indians, having applied to him for ammunition. The statement is likely to mislead people at the East The fact that ammunition is wanted at Walla Walla indicates no danger of attack there. A supply should be on hand at that place to draw upon in case of emergency at the scene of hostilities The Walla Walla Union says: "Our city is 150 miles from the seat of war, to reach which it is necessary to pass through a thickly settled country. We are too far away to be in danger of an attack from hostile savages."

ORIGIN OF THE OUTBREAK

We present in this issue a great variety of matter relative to the Idaho Indian war. It is now established that the outbreak began without any provocation whatever. Witnesses' statements show that the massacre was attended with every circumstance of atrocity and horror. Several of these statements, taken from the witnesses themselves and in some instances in their handwriting, are before us Their substance is given in dispatches and letters printed in other columns We quote here one sentence, not elsewhere given, which deserves to be emphasized as a solemn protestation that the uprising is the result of no fault on the part of the settlers. "Let it be distinctly understood, says this writer, that the outbreak of a portion of the Nez Perces tribe at this time is not caused by any act of the white people who are settled in the country but that it grew out of the course taken to bring the band to the reservation" The Idaho Statesman at greater length, sets forth the causes which precipitated it, and shows in the clearest and most forcible way that it is a result of a foolish policy on the part of the government

The columns of the Statesman have, time and time again for years contained articles and letters giving a truthful and complete exposition of the condition of the Nez Perce Indian reservation the dealings of the government, through its authorized agents, with those Indians, the danger threatened and foretold the trouble which has now come is the inevitable consequence of the conduct and policy pursued For a long series of years the Indians have been allowed to roam at will over the country, assembling annually at given points and drawing together the bad and disaffected Indians from other tribes They were allowed to make annual visits to Montana, where they passed the autumn, winter and spring, returning to the noted rendezvous in summer with the fruits of thefts committed on the citizens of Montana, or of their conflicts with roving bands of Sioux encountered on the plains Every year added to their supply of the most improved firearms and ammunition, procured, no one knows how, until they were as well armed as the soldiers of the regular army. When so assembled, bad white men and half breeds were allowed free access to them, selling the Indians whisky, cheating them out of their horses and other property while intoxicated, and otherwise demoralizing and brutalizing them These were the grand occasions, but the whole year was filled up with rovings and assemblings upon a smaller scale. It had become so common a spectacle in northern Idaho to see bands of drunken Indians near the towns, or to meet them upon the highways, that the people had almost come to regard it as the normal condition of things for which it was vain to seek a remedy. All this time the Indian agent and a well salaried force of missionaries and employes were housed at the agencies under pretended religious auspices where the theory of the government supposed them to be looking after and promoting the temporal and spiritual welfare of the Indians We write advisedly of these matters, as we were upon the ground and a witness of events as they occurred How the people could sleep amid such scenes of palpably growing danger, and in spite of the repeated warnings given them through the Statesman is incomprehensible, but sleep, it seems, they did, until awakened by the war whoop and murderous fire of the savages

The Cincinnati Commercial advocates the building of a monument to Cornelia Chisholm; and adds

> It would be a noble thing for 10,000 patriotic women to subscribe $1 each for the furtherance of such an object. The memory of this poor girl should be perpetuated. Her self-sacrificing devotion, in the face of shot guns, assassins and death—her moral heroism—deserves to be recorded on the golden pages of history

The St. Paul Press seconds the motion but with an amendment that the monument be built at the capital of the nation, with the names of her murderers engraved thereon, together with that of the state which makes no effort to punish such a crime

A DREADFUL TRAGEDY.

A dispatch from Gilroy, Cal, June 20th, gives the following account of the murder of a woman and her two children, and the pursuit of the murderers.

A gentleman just in from Los Banos brings intelligence of a fearful tragedy It seems that a Mr. Harris, a Frenchman, engaged in sheep raising, has a ranch on the Los Banos, about eight miles from Staytonville, between there and Los Banos, where his family resided. On Sunday evening a French sheep herder known as Joe, formerly employed by Mr. Harris, came to the house and remained over night, being given food and lodging Monday afternoon he returned again, reporting that he had found about sixty head of stray sheep belonging to Mr. Harris, but could not drive them in as he had sprained his ankle. Mrs Harris and her sister bathed the ankle and bandaged it after which the sister and Mrs Harris' oldest son started after the sheep. Soon after they left, Mr Smith, a neighbor, hearing shots at the house, went to see what was the matter, and on arriving, found Mrs Harris dying A boy, about ten years of age, was dead,—both from pistol shots, and a little girl about four years old stabbed, and only able to say that Joe had killed her mother and brother. The bodies were taken to Los Banos for interment, the little girl dying on the way. A vigorous pursuit of the murderer being made If caught, the state will be at no expense the excitement among the mountaineers being intense, the belief being that the crime is the result of an attempt to commit rape

NOTICE TO PERSONS INTENDING TO EMIGRATE TO OREGON.

Direct Passage from New York to Portland, Oregon.

LAND DEPARTMENT O & C R R
PORTLAND June 25 1877

THE OREGON STEAMSHIP COMPANY HAS agreed to carry on its iron steamship now being built at Chester, Pa, by John Roach & Son upon her completion on or about the 15th day of January 1878 steerage passengers from New York to Portland direct via the Straits of Magellan, at the extremely low rate of $75 00 currency, board included

This steamer will be the best strongest and most comfortably arranged ship ever built in the United States Speed 13½ knots Dimensions 260 feet in length 38 feet beam 23½ depth of hold capacity 2200 tons 100 cabin and 500 steerage passengers The fitting up of the steerage will receive special attention it will be provided with all modern improvements and its ventilation will be perfect Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, and the fare will be of the best quality Part of the deck room will be fitted up for refrigerating purposes with a view to furnish passengers fresh meat during the whole voyage

The voyage will be made in about sixty days.

To assist persons who desire to emigrate to Oregon agricultural and other implements will be taken at very low rates

For persons here who have friends in the Atlantic States wishing to come to Oregon this offers a rare opportunity as the annoyances and fatigue of the overland route by rail are avoided, and the passage is considerably less

For particular information address F C Schmidt, 1 South William street New York, or

WONDERFUL SUCCESS

OF

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Country to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility Kidney Disease Loss of Flesh and Strength dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm and I constantly improved from the beginning I have gained 14 pounds of flesh and I am now thanks to your skillful treatment perfectly well and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish
JAMES KING
Seattle, March 31, 1877

To the People I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the pallate and down through my nostrils

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr Paul M Brenan who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer also the diseased portion of bone and pituatory gland and cured the catarrh I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life
THOMAS D. MURPHY
Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR PAUL M BRENAN—Dear Sir I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit I have been suffering with general and nervous debility a difficulty in my stomach and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work About three weeks ago I put myself under your care and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment To me now, labor seems a pleasure I say this much hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them
Your's Truly JOHN BALLARD,
Employed at Coleman's Saw Mill, Seattle

RESIGNED.—Capt. A. B. Brannan and B. P. Collins both tendered their resignations to the police commissioners Monday evening at the regular meeting of the board. These gentlemen have for years been connected with the metropolitan police force of the city. They have proved themselves vigilant and active officers, and by their resignation the police force loses two of its most efficient representatives.

BALL AT THE DALLES.—The receipt of an invitation is acknowledged to attend the second annual ball of Columbia Relief Hose Co. ... to be given at the New Umatilla House ... Dalles, on the evening of July 4th. ... following gentlemen compose the committee of arrangements: Z. A. Moody, O. Sylvester, ... C. M. DuVall, John McDonald and F. ... McFarland.

PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARY.—The results of the entertainment for the benefit of this library are very satisfactory. The total receipts were $177 25 and the expenses $42 75, leaving a handsome balance of $134 50. This will ... purchase at least 100 volumes which added to those now on hand, and 150 on the ... steamer, will swell the number to above ...

RETURNED.—Dr. Paul M. Brenan returned last evening from Astoria after a very successful course of lectures delivered at that place. He will remain in this city for two weeks and then take a brief run to Astoria. Dr. Brenan can be found, as usual, at his office near the corner of Front and Washington streets, stairs.

CONGREGATIONAL PICNIC.—On Saturday ... the children of the Congregational Sunday School will be treated to a good time in the woods, as arrangements have been made with the City of Salem to carry them and their friends to Ross' Island where a day's pleasure may be had.

PICNIC CELEBRATION.—The patriotic citizens of Clackamas county propose to hold a picnic celebration on the Fourth of July at Kellogg's school house, about 24 miles from Milwaukie. Hon. W. A. Starkweather has been selected orator for the occasion.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OVERLAND ROUTE.—The success which has attended the production of the "Overland Route" has justified the management in presenting it again to-night. The scenic effects in the play, aside from the excellent acting of the members, is really fine. Neither pains nor expense have been spared to render the scenery as perfect as the art of the scenic artist and stage machinist can make it. With ... evening's performance we may expect to ... those members of the company who have ... been thoroughly "up in their parts" ... perfect in their lines, thus avoiding the ... attendant upon prompting. In addition to ... those mentioned yesterday as deserving ... mention we might add Miss Abbot, ... Whitland and John Maguire. The make up ... the former as "Mrs. Lovibond" is marked ... due regard to the character and the two ladies ... dress in the most laughable manner after the ... shipwreck, and they invariably evoke bursts of ... laughter every time they appear. Brown ... usual carries off the honors for his extreme ... funny mannerisms and ludicrous mishaps ... more mirth provoking play has not been ... presented here for a long time. To-night will ... the last chance you will have to witness it.

DEATH OF T. L. SMITH.—Last week a premature announcement was made of the death of Theo. L. Smith at Good Samaritan Hospital. Monday morning, however, at half past [illegible] his spirit passed away from [illegible] to try the realities of the future. He was removed to the hospital [illegible] weeks ago. Mr. Smith came to [illegible] about 7 years ago and was for some time connected with the theatrical profession. For several years prior to his death he published a weekly sheet called the Guide. He was born in New Haven, Conn., where his father still resides. At the time of his death he was about 35 years of age. His family are of a highly respectable [illegible]. "Theo." was a generous, whole-souled fellow, whose genial disposition led him to contract dissolute habits, which led him to a premature grave. He had many commendable qualities of heart and [illegible] who knew him in life will regret his untimely end. Peace to his ashes.

DAYS OF SAILING.—For the remainder of June and during July, the Oregon Steamship Company's steamers will leave this port for San Francisco on the following dates and hours designated: City of Chester, June 30, at 3 A. M., Geo. W. Elder, July 5, at 3 A. M., Ajax, Tuesday, July [illegible], at [illegible] A. M.; City of Chester, July 15, Geo. W. Elder, July 20, at 3 A. M.; Ajax, July 25, at 3 A. M.; City of Chester, July RESIGNED.—Capt. A. B. Brannan and Capt. [illegible] both tendered their resignations to the police commissioners Monday evening at the regular meeting of the board. These gentlemen have for years been connected with the metropolitan police force of the city. They have proved themselves vigilant and efficient officers, and, by their resignation the police force loses two of its most efficient representatives.

AT THE DALLES.—The receipt of an invitation is acknowledged to attend the second annual ball of Columbia Relief Hose Co. No. 1, to be given at the New Umatilla House in The Dalles, on the evening of July 4th. The following gentlemen compose the committee of arrangements: Z. A. Moody, O. Sylvester, [illegible] DuVall, John McDonald and Frank [illegible].

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY.—The results of the entertainment for the benefit of this library were very satisfactory. The total receipts were [illegible] and the expenses $42 75, leaving the balance of $134 50. This will purchase at least 100 volumes which added to those on hand, and 150 on the incoming [illegible] will swell the number to above 560.

RETURNED.—Dr. Paul M. Brenan returned [illegible] evening from Astoria after a very successful course of lectures delivered at that place. He will remain in this city for two weeks and then take a brief run to Astoria. Dr. Brenan can be found, as usual, at his office near the corner of Front and Washington streets, up stairs.

CONGREGATIONAL PICNIC.—On Saturday next the children of the Congregational Sunday school will be treated to a good time in the woods, as arrangements have been made with the City of Salem to carry them and their friends to Ross' Island where a day's pleasure may be had.

PICNIC CELEBRATION.—The patriotic citizens of Clackamas county propose to hold a picnic celebration on the Fourth of July at Kenan's schoolhouse, about 2½ miles from Milwaukie. Hon. W. A. Starkweather has been selected orator for the occasion.

AMUSEMENTS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—The success which has attended the production of the "Overland Route" has justified the management in presenting it again to-night. The scenic effects alone, aside from the excellent acting of the company, is really fine. Neither pains nor expense have been spared to render the piece as perfect as the art of the scenic artist and stage machinist can make it. With this excellent performance we may expect to find all the members of the company who have not been thoroughly "up in their parts" to be perfect in their lines, thus avoiding the jar [illegible] prompting. In addition to those mentioned yesterday as deserving of praise we might add Miss Abbot, R. C. [illegible] and John Maguire. The make up of [illegible] as "Mrs. Lovibond" is marked with [illegible] the character and the two latter [illegible] in the most laughable manner after the [illegible] and they invariably evoke loud [illegible] every time they appear. Brown as [illegible] carries off the honors for his extremely [illegible] and ludicrous mishaps. A [illegible] provoking play has not been presented here for a long time. To-night will be the last chance you will have to witness it.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The steamer McMinnville will leave tri-weekly as per card elsewhere for Oregon City, [illegible] on the Yamhill river. Shippers [illegible] make a note of it.

Persons desirous of bringing out friends [illegible] will find that arrangements can be made with the O. S. S. Co. for passage by the new steamer which is expected to sail [illegible] January. See card.

OUR DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Hon. H. W. Corbett received yesterday afternoon the following dispatch:

NEW TACOMA, W. T., June 26, 1877.

To H. W. Corbett: Senatorial party arrived here this morning. They go to Olympia this afternoon and return to-morrow afternoon by P. M. S. S. Dakota. On Thursday evening they will leave Tacoma for Kalama by special train.

Mr. Corbett will proceed to Kalama to-morrow morning, and meeting the distinguished visitors there and accompany them to Portland. The committee appointed by the president of the Board of Trade will conclude all necessary arrangements for holding a public reception to these Senators, by whose visit this State has been so honored. The reception will be without regard to political differences, and is intended to show in a fitting manner the honor and respect due the distinguished gentlemen composing the party, as representative men from sister States. The committee having charge of the matter will arrange all for the forthcoming reception, and due notice will be given of the time and place.

It is stated that the senatorial party will be housed at Mr. Ben Holladay's palatial mansion during their stay here. It is presumed that some demonstration will be made on the part of the citizens Thursday evening on the arrival of the boat. It is reported that the United States infantry band will be on hand to welcome the party to our state and city. If nothing has been yet agreed on, it is time our public-spirited citizens were up and doing. It will be given under the auspices of the board of trade, and the entertainment on the night on which it will be given will be under the supervision of the same indefatigable gentlemen who succeeded in making the Sheridan reception without a parallel.

"Making Old Bones."

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints, are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive functions, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fever and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

Instead of making a "tour around the world," go to Fabre's Chateau de Versailles.

Ladies, if you want a nice cashmere dress go to the Emporium of Fashion of J. Harris & Son.

Mrs. B. A. Owens, M.D., Office and residence, east side First street, between Yamhill and Taylor. Special attention given to Women and Children complaints. Also gives Medicated Vapor Baths, combined with Electricity, in treating Rheumatism and Chronic Diseases.

The Medical Institute of Dr. W. L. Adams, corner of First and Salmon streets, will be removed to Hood river in a few months. Till then chronic diseases of men and women will be treated in Portland as usual. An accomplished lady assistant to give baths to ladies and assist in their treatment always in the office.

Ladies' linen suits sold cheaper at J. Harris & Son's Emporium of Fashion than in any store in the city.

CORN REMEDY.

Dr. Halpruner's Patent Salve, for the cure of CORNS, BUNIONS, &c., is for sale by all druggists.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

OREGON CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

THIRD DAY.

SATURDAY, June 23.

A paper written by C. H. Walker was read in regard to the general working of Sabbath schools, which recommended strongly the committing to memory of the Scripture lesson. Mr. Cruzan spoke in regard to retaining the older children in the school, and said that in order to do so teachers must be found who knew enough to instruct and who were willing to entertain honest doubts, and he also recommended the building a good barricade of parents and grandparents in a Bible class, who would prevent the escape of the older children.

Others emphasized the need of aiming at the conversion of the children, constant review of lessons, steady work in at least thirty minutes of teaching, the study of the lessons by the teachers, the teaching of Christ and the committing to memory of the Sabbath school hymns.

Mr. A. J. Anderson read a very interesting paper on the Religious Instruction of the Household. The ladies chiefly discussed this question, mainly from their own experience, and spoke of keeping the confidence of the children, teaching them the parents' authority and God's authority, dedicating them to God, making the boy's room as pleasant as the girl's room, constant family prayer, the remaining at home of the parents during the evening, but not always threatening and scolding of the children.

Rev. J. A. Cruzan spoke very warmly in favor of the weekly contribution box as an educator, a part of worship, a good way of obtaining what was needed, money, and as Scriptural. There were others, however, who had difficulties in regard to the subject, not as a matter of principle for Christians, but of practice among those who are not Christians.

Rev. J. F. Damon opened the subject of how to make our Sabbath services more effectual, and in the discussion which followed, the following hints were made: That we must preach Christ more, pray more in secret, dwell more in the presence of Christ, make people believe that we love their souls; while a brother from California stated that this subject had been fully discussed in San Francisco, and that the ministers there recommended that inquiry meetings be held immediately after the evening service.

The Indian question was quite thoroughly discussed, and also the present Nez Perces war, and while the Association was perfectly willing that the military should take charge of Joseph and similar Indians, yet the body re-affirmed its belief in what is called the peace policy. In fact the opinion was expressed that a good thrashing of bad Indians is a part of the peace policy. The need of a good title to the lands to industrious Indians on reservations was strongly urged as a means of civilizing them. On to lengthy resolutions were adopted, which I have not been able to obtain, but which will hereafter be published.

A resolution in regard to the death of brother A. B. Cosper of Salem was adopted, tendering to his bereaved family our earnest sympathy, and offering thanks to God for the Christian example which he set before the people for so many years.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Resolved, That we hereby record a vote of thanks to the North Pacific Railroad, the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, the Oregon and California and the Oregon and Central Railroads for favors to ministers and delegates.

The association recommended to the churches an assessment of fifteen cents a member for the publication of the minutes.

Rev. P. S. Knight and H. Lyman were elected delegates to the National Congregational Council which meets at Detroit next October, with Professor G. H. Collier as alternate, and Oregon City was selected as the place of meeting next year.

On the Sabbath the clergymen of the association preached in the various churches of the place. At the communion service the two oldest ministers of the association took charge. Father Walker of Forest Grove, aged nearly 72, and Father Stewart of Semiahmoo, W. T., aged 82. Father Walker contrasted the first communion of Congregationalists in this country, nearly thirty years ago, with the present one. Then only fourteen were present, six of whom are still living, three of them being present—himself one of the number—and then said, "What hath God wrought?"

In the evening Mr. Samuel Greene of White river, W. T., was licensed to preach the Gospel for one year.

OREGON'S STATE UNIVERSITY.

Says a Eugene City paper: "On the 3d day of next month the second session of the first year of this institution will close. The board of regents, after weighing the matter carefully, decided it would be better for the school to close at this time than to wait till the 19th prox. This was done in order to give the workmen opportunity to complete the building and complete it well. Citizens of Eugene and Lane county, both you who opposed and you who favored its location here, are you not proud of that building that stands on yonder site overlooking this beautiful city? And are you not more proud of the school, the manner in which it is conducted, the scholars and the rapid advancement they have made? If this is not the case you certainly have never entered the different departments when school was in session, and listened to a recitation. The instructors, from the assistant in the preparatory department, seem to take a pride in everything coming under their supervision, and, while seeking to advance their pupils, ever have in view the all-important idea of thoroughness, a something not every institution in this state can boast. Is it exaggeration to say that that building is the great architect that is modeling the future of this county, yea, even of this state? The plans and specifications to place "this little state carved out on the western shore" by the side of any of the other thirty-seven, are being drawn, and it only devolves upon us, as workmen on this grand structure, to see that each brick is laid securely in its place, and that the edifice is neatly and properly completed. Will it be done?"

Flashing in their pearly sheen,
From the glorious coralline,
See those teeth untarnished!
White alike the back and front.
Yes, by the fragrant SOZODONT,
May beauty's mouth be garnished!

PLEASURE BOATS.

JOHN LACHAPELLE, Boat Builder, is prepared to furnish Boats for Sale or Rent at any moment. Boat-house Foot of Pine street.

Notwithstanding the war in Europe and the recent outbreak of Joseph's band, there is no increase in the price of clothing. Beck & Waldman assure us that they have aimed to keep the prices down.

The Indian war is attracting fully as much attention as Barnes' coffee and lunches.

Be warned in time. If the blessings of health are desired, remember that medical practice has proven that Noble Whisky has wonderful invigorating and health giving properties. You can draw your supply from Millard & Vanschuyver, 39 Front street.

Murder Will Out.

A few years ago "August Flower" was discovered to be a certain cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint; a few thin Dyspeptics made known to their friends how easily and quickly they had been cured by its use. The great merits of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER became heralded through the country by one sufferer to another, until, without advertising, its sale has become immense. Druggists in EVERY TOWN in the United States are selling it. No person suffering with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Low Spirits, etc., can take three doses without relief. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Agents, Crane & Brigham, wholesale druggists, San Francisco.

SANFORD'S
RADICAL CURE
For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every fibrous contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz: the acidified blood while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.
GEO. BEARD, M. D.
Nobscott Block, So. Framingham, Oct. 1, 1874.

CATARRH
And Deafness Cured.

Gentlemen—My wife has been troubled with Catarrh for years, and has tried three other remedies without any benefit. She has also been partially deaf in one ear over twelve years. Since she has been using SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE her troubles have been growing rapidly better. At times she can hear as well as ever, and I am confident that a persistent use of the remedy will result in a permanent restoration of her hearing. There are several others here who are using the RADICAL CURE successfully, and I anticipate for it a large sale as a consequence of the never failing relief and cure afforded by its use. Respectfully yours,
A. W. DAVIDSON.
Hardwick, Vt., March 12.

P.S.—Mr. Luther Bullard of this town, reports that he has taken many remedies, and has employed physicians without relief, but has derived the greatest benefit from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

OLD DUMPS.

They used to make fun of him at the office He was a queer old fellow, with a solemn face, and what we thought ridiculously polite ways. He'd take off his hat when he came in, and say: "Good morning, gentlemen. I trust I see you all in good health this fine day."

And some of the boys would nod—and some wouldn't do anything; but I never could help standing up and bowing, perhaps because I knew that my mother would have said I ought to do it.

To be sure, he was only on salary, like ourselves, but had been at R. & B.'s for twenty five years, and young fellows had come and gone, and there he was.

And, you see, it was gentlemanly of him, I said, and as he was a creature with a queer little wig, why, he looked something like a gentleman, too. I said once to Merrivale, next desk to mine: but—well—I did not try it again.

You see Merrivale was up to everything almost, and I'd come from a country town, and he was a city man

Nobody was down on "Old Dumps" as he was, especially after he made us that speech about our conduct toward the ladies.

Dumps made the speech, you know; and it was Merrivale who had said the lady only came in to look at him.

I'm sure she only wanted to know the way to the next street she asked for, and how she colored and hurried out.

And Dumps, with his brown wig, looked to me like the gentleman that day; and Merrivale, with his fine curling hair and black mustache and broad shoulders, like a puppy.

"The man who calls a blush to the cheek of a good woman by look or tone must have forgotten his mother," said Old Dumps. "When that lady asked you a civil question she relied on her belief that you were a gentleman, Mr. Merrivale. When you answered her as you did and spoke of her as you did, any one could read your insulting thoughts, Mr. Merrivale; and you did not even rise from your seat, sir. You proved that she was very much mistaken."

"Mean to say I am no gentleman?" said Merrivale.

"In this instance, sir," said Old Dumps, "you certainly have not conducted yourself as one should."

Merrivale pulled his coat half off, and pulled it on again.

"Pshaw!" said he: "he knows he's safe. There'd be no fun in knocking down an old bag of bones like that. I could do it with my little finger. But you attend to your own business, will you, Old Dumps? I can behave myself without your advice, and that ain't the first woman that's come in just for a sort of flirtation. I'm used to that sort of thing, I am."

"Mr. Dumps is right this time," said I.

"Bah!" said Merrivale, "you're from the country."

"Thank heaven for it, then, my young friend," said Dumps, and sat down.

After that Merrivale was never even half way civil to Dumps, and the boys followed Merrivale's lead. But I liked the old fellow. When we met in the street I'd take off my hat and shake hands, and say some of those polite things mother used to teach me to say. And I wrote of him to mother, and she said she was glad that her boy knew what was due to a good old gentleman. But after all, in the office, you know what the boys thought and said had its influence.

Who were the boys? Why, there was Merrivale, with his darling airs and his way of letting you know that he was a favorite with the women.

And Carberry, who didn't care about style, and knew the city.

And Stover, who used to come with red eyes and headaches, and boast that he'd been making a night of it.

I was lonely enough in the great city, and I should have liked to join company with Dumps, and walk home with him from church sometimes, but I was afraid of meeting one of the boys, and I never did. But I would bow to him, and we took our hats off to each other always.

Sometimes, when I lived at Hardale, with mother, I've seen the sky beautiful and bright and blue one hour, and the next black with the clouds of a thunderstorm. Just that way my trouble came to me—an awful trouble—such as I could not dream of.

I had written to my mother that I was doing well and liked my business, and would be down to see her on Sunday, when I was sent for to go into the inner office; and there—I can't go through with it—I can't even remember details; but I was charged with being a thief.

You'd have to understand our particular business, as well as book-keeping, to know how I was supposed to have done it; but they believed I had robbed them of $100.

They urged me to confess. I was innocent, and I said so. Then they told me they did not wish to be hard on me. I was young. The city was a bad place for boys. They would be merciful, and only dismiss me without a recommendation. All that I could say had no effect. They proved me guilty before they accused me, and at last I staggered out into the office. The boys were getting ready to go home. I saw they knew what had happened.

"None of you believed this of me," said I. "None of you know me?"

And Merrivale said:

"Look here, Forester, you're very lucky to get off so."

And Carberry said:

"Now come, we know too much to be fooled. It's always your sly boots of good young men that does these sort of things."

And Grab said:

"I say, Forester, don't talk too much, you'll give yourself away."

And Stover said:

"O, go take a glass of brandy and water and don't go on like a girl about it."

And what with shame and rage, and grief, I could have died; when out of his dusty corner came little Old Dumps, in his snuff-colored overcoat, and held out his hand.

"Mr. Foster," he said, "I've watched you ever since you've been here. I know what you are. You are incapable of a dishonest act, and, what is more, I will prove it before I rest. The man who respects others always respects himself. The man who honors his mother will do no dishonorable thing."

He took my hand in his arm, and bowing to the others, walked into the street with me. I heard Grab and Carberry laugh, but Merrivale gave us a furious look, and stood, white to the lips, looking after us.

"Mr. Dumps," said I, "I thank you for your confidence in me, I deserve it—in this, at least; but it saves my heart from breaking under this disgrace. How shall I tell my mother?"

"Don't tell her yet," said he "Wait Others shall think of you as I do soon."

Then we went on in silence. He took me to his own room, where he kept bachelor's hall. He made tea for me, and served me with sliced potted beef and thin bread and butter.

The room was strange, old fashioned place, enough like a room in a story—and there was a miniature of a young lady in the costume of forty years before, on the wall over the mantel; and on the book shelves old calf bound volumes—Fielding's Amelia, Thaddeus of Warsaw, Evelina—I can't tell you all of them; and on a stand, near the fire, the prayer book, with the book mark hanging from it.

And it was not until we had done tea that he said to me, very apologetically, after I had called him Mr. Dumps

"Mr. Forester, excuse me; but I am not named Dumps. That is the name by which the young men at the store considered it witty to call me. I confess I could not see the wit; but it rather hurt them than me. I saw by your manner that you had made a mistake. My name is Adams."

I was so much ashamed of having used that nickname, innocently as I did it, that I could have cried.

But my old friend comforted me I think that but for his sympathy that night I should have taken my own life I did not believe he could help me even then

But he did. I said I could not tell you just what they accused me of doing unless you knew the ins and outs of our business. And I can't tell you how he did it, for the same reason. But one day he came to me, flushed with triumph, took both my hands and shook them hard, and said

"My dear boy, it's all right, I'd watched before, and had a clue Your character is cleared, the firm welcome you back, with regrets that they should have suspected you; the real culprit is Merrivale, Stover is his accomplice."

And so it really was. They had doctored my books and meddled with my proofs. They made me out a thief as plainly as though I had been one, and they never guessed "Old Dumps," with his suspicions aroused had played detective, and was able to come to my rescue in my hour of need.

I went back to my situation, and I've got on well ever since, but there's more of my story. Think of my dear old Dumps turning out to be my uncle—my mother's own brother—and neither of us guessing it.

Long ago other people had quarreled, and so separated these two, who were always friends

Think of the little man in the shabby wig and coat proving to be quite rich, and going down in the country to live with his sister for the rest of his life

In vacations and holidays I go to see them They are happy together, and the little tea-table is set with the old china, and there is potted beef and jelly, and I'm petted like a child And in my uncle's room the old miniature of the young lady hangs over the mantelpiece as it did in his lodgings.

And since he told me its sweet, sad story, and I knew why the quaint old man in the office had a more true and tender gallantry to women, and was a braver friend and a more perfect gentleman than the young fops who grinned at him from the high stools between his desk and the window, and gave him the nickname of Old Dumps

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 26, 1877

Gold in New York, 105⅛.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying 94, selling 95.

Silver Coin—4½@5 per cent discount.

The past two days have developed nothing specially new or important in local monetary circles Though there has been a moderate share of activity, the general report is indicative of a very quiet condition all along the line

The reports that reach us from different quarters of the globe show that notwithstanding the political complications which exist in Europe or Asia, a circumstance which might be supposed to induce a sort of disposition to hoard money and draw it off from the ordinary channels of circulation, there is yet a general report in all the leading trade and financial centers of an abundance of surplus capital, and though "war times" generally send rates up, so far the present war has had no effect of the kind. The New York and Chicago papers all note this fact, and the London Economist of a late date says: The rates of discount in Continental cities have tended downward, as is not unusual after the beginning of May. The rate in Paris is 1½, and the German markets are a shade lower also. The Berlin government has a means at disposal of affecting the market value of money independently of raising the bank rate, and that is by the issue of treasury bills, some considerable amounts of which have been sold, the effect being to take money from the open market at the will of the government. Otherwise the market rates in Germany might have given way more distinctly. A Paris letter to the same journal says: The accumulation of money in the bank continues the private deposits now amounting to the enormous sum of 610,000,000. The increase has been wholly in Paris, and is, in a great measure, due to deposits of specie, of which there is an augmentation of 22,000,000. A great part of this increase in the cash reserve arises from the maturing of mint bonds given in exchange for gold deposited for coinage at the commencement of the month, when the exchange on London had fallen so low as to permit large imports of both bullion and foreign coin.

Federal Finances.

Up to June 7th, the receipts from internal revenue amounted to $11_,000,000. The estimate for the fiscal year ending June 30th, it will be remembered, was $120,000,000, and it is now expected that the amount will be exceeded.

The balance in the United States Treasury at Washington on the 7th June was as follows:

Gold and silver coin	$106,125,100
Currency	5,148,900
Legal tenders for fractional currency	7,762,800
Special deposit for currency certificates	49 290,000
Total	$168,326,300

The last two items are not available for any other purpose except the redemption of fractional currency and certificates, while of the coin balance $45,508,900 must be deducted to cover government gold certificates in circulation. This reduces the balance available for government use as follows

Gold and silver coin	$60,616,200
Currency	5,148 900
Total	$65,765,100

The amount is $1,476,000 less than it was on the 1st inst.

Breadstuff Exports.

The exports from the United States of bread and breadstuffs during the nine months ending March 31st, 1877, were as follows:

Barley, bushels	500 221	$314,930
Bread and biscuit, lbs.	8,550,087	428,443
Indian corn, bu	49 053,259	28 684,603
Indian corn meal, bbls	277,848	914,833
Oats, bu	2,683,035	1,068,258
Rye, bu	1,728 205	1,410,107
Rye flour, bbls	5 369	27,532
Wheat, bu	34 522 09_	38,751 539
Wheat flour, bbls	2,632,154	16,039 547
Other small grain and pulse		742,782
Other preparations of breadstuffs		300,642
Total value.		$88 892,876

Of the wheat, 26,540 058 bushels went to the United Kingdom, California alone contributing 15,886 318 bushels, against 11,153 740 from all other ports.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship City of Chester from San Francisco will be due at this port to morrow.

The British ship City of Amoy, to load salmon, etc, for Liverpool, is about due

The steamship California will sail for Sitka and intermediate ports on next Monday

Panama Railway Matters.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Trenor W. Pa
a report at a meeting of the director railroad to-day. He found the road, stock, wharves and workshops at P and other property in better conditio they had been for years. California remained about the same, but Central can trade increased. The cost of runn road is less than last year. Park recom that the road be extended to the Fl islands, laying a mile and a half out bay, which would give plenty of deep yearly.

Packard Serenaded.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 26.—Gov. P was serenaded to-night, and made a sp response. After thanking the serenad
the honor done him, he said:

I accept it as a sentiment that I represen majority will be repeated. It will be an ele the whole Republican party, the majority that will be repeated, and to gentlemen well as delegates that work is submitted.

Republican standard is kept up; if we h old guard on duty in the Republican party,
